Alumawood Cedar Embossment

Alumawood

Alumawood has a Cedar embossment that mimics the natural beauty of real wood while offering superior durability, standing up to winds of 110 mph compared to wood's 90 mph limit. It won't rot, chip, or peel, ensuring a long-lasting, maintenance-free solution. While vinyl is aesthetically appealing, it lacks the authentic wood finish and strength of Alumawood. Alumawood combines the best features of both vinyl and wood, offering the beauty and texture of wood without the drawbacks and the low maintenance and durability of vinyl. This makes Alumawood the ultimate material for patio covers, pergolas, and more, providing a strong, visually appealing solution that withstands the elements. Choose Alumawood for a patio cover that delivers both style and substance, enhancing your outdoor space with unmatched performance and elegance.

OUR TYPES

Discover the versatility of Alumawood patio covers with Chillax Patios. We offer lattice, solid, and insulated designs, giving you the perfect choice for your outdoor space. Whether you seek partial shade, full protection, or year-round comfort, we'll explain each option to help you create your ideal outdoor living experience.

LATTICE COVERS

Lattice covers offer a light, airy design that reduces sun exposure by 50-60%, providing partial shade throughout the day and full shade in the afternoon. These covers can be customized with curves and angles to create a pergola that's completely yours.

SOLID COVERS

Solid covers provide complete shade with laminated roof panels (LRP) that lock together to create a seamless, solid overhead covering. They offer a uniform, enclosed appearance and, although curves can be challenging, angles can be incorporated for full customization.

INSULATED COVERS

Insulated covers are solid covers featuring expanded polystyrene (EPS) cores between embossed aluminum panels, providing superior insulation for year-round comfort. They offer extra protection for areas near golf courses or heavy hail, as punctures on the underside are not visible. These covers are perfect if you plan on enclosing your patio cover. With the same customization options as solid covers, insulated covers create an ideal outdoor retreat.

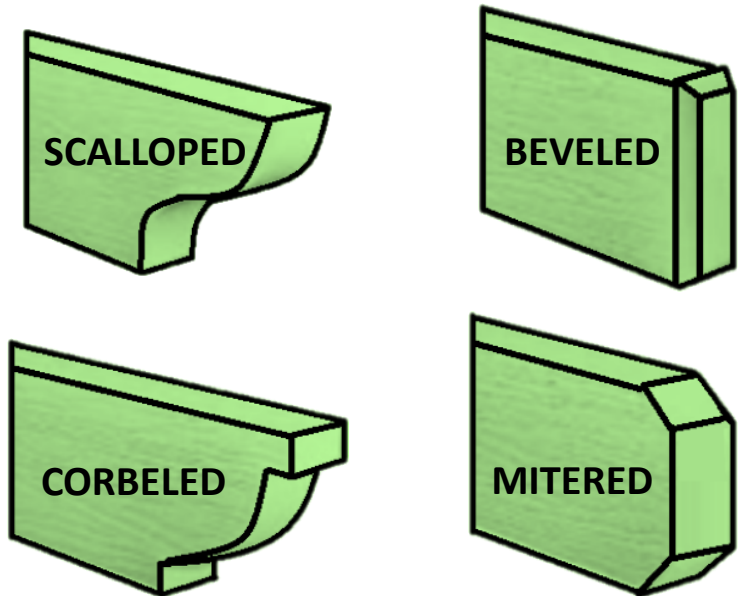

OUR OPTIONS

At Chillax Patios, we offer numerous options to customize your pergola, ensuring it perfectly complements your outdoor space. From colors to end cuts to styles, we provide the ideal solution for your needs.

STYLES

We offer three styles of pergolas: attached, stand-alone, and cantilever. These styles can be tailored with custom colors and end cuts, making your pergola truly unique. Brown is the most popular of our nine color options, and we also offer multi-tone options for a distinctive look. While cantilever designs are limited in size due to their two-post structure, they still provide a sleek, modern aesthetic. With these customization options, we ensure that your pergola perfectly fits your vision and needs. All these elements come together to create your perfect custom patio cover.
